

Use of Experimental Animals, and Human Participants Policy

For papers that includes experiments on live animals, and/or higher invertebrates, the methods section must include a statement:

- (i) identifying the institutional and/or licensing committee approving the experiments, including any relevant details;
- (ii) confirming that all experiments were performed in accordance with relevant guidelines and regulations.

Manuscripts presenting studies that have employed anesthesia or euthanasia methods inconsistent with the commonly accepted norms of veterinary best practice will not be considered.

For research involving human participants, authors must identify the committee that approved the research, confirm that all research was performed in accordance with relevant guidelines/regulations, and include in their manuscript a statement confirming that informed consent was obtained from all participants and/or their legal guardians.

International Journal of Management, Sciences, Innovation, and Technology will not process papers describing research that involves experiments procured from prisoners.
